

1 DEAD, 1 HURT AT CROSSING

TRAIN WRECKS AUTO, KILLING LEONARD ANDRE, WINONA FARMER

Wife of Driver, Badly Injured, Taken to Hospital.

INQUEST IS HELD
Crash Occurs on Salem-Lisbon Highway.

Leonard Andre, 62, farmer, near Winona, was killed and his wife, Cynthia 59, seriously injured, when their automobile was struck by an eastbound Fort Wayne division passenger train at the Lisbon-Salem road crossing, south of Salem, at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

"Accidental Death" Verdict.
Andre, whose skull, left leg and right arm were fractured, died five minutes after he was admitted to the Salem hospital. Mrs. Andre, who sustained a fracture of the pelvis bone and injuries to her back and both knees, was also taken to the hospital. Her recovery is expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Andre, on their way home from Salem, according to the woman, failed to notice the approach of the passenger train, a Pittsburgh local, or to see the flashing red lights at the crossing. The train had stopped at the Salem station and was not traveling at top speed when it reached the crossing.

The impact hurled the automobile against a telephone pole along the right of way, and the two passengers were buried in the wreckage.

The Stark and Arbaugh ambulances from Salem were summoned, both of the victims were rushed to the hospital where Dr. R. T. Holzbaugh attended them.

Coroner J. M. Van Fossan, East Palestine, who conducted the inquest this morning, rendered a verdict of "accidental death."

Dante and the Gas Range.
They Will Fly.
Her Quivering Flesh.
Rattlesnakes Are Easy.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

[The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.]

DANTE and Virgil traveled the frightful parts of Hell where spirits writhed and rolled in red hot pitch, then going deeper, found Satan, himself, held captive in ice up to his waist, his wailing bat-like wings supplying the cold, as with three mouths, he chewed three sinners, including Judas and Brutus.

AS strange a combination of hot and cold is exhibited at Chicago's American Gas Convention. It's a gas stove and refrigerator combined, no bigger than the average gas range. Here also the heat is above, and the refrigerator in the lower part of the unit.

IN spite of warnings and disasters men and women continue their flying effort to conquer the oceans.

Two Frenchmen are on their way from Paris to Buenos Aires. A Fokker monoplane, Southern Cross, is ready to start from San Francisco Bay to Australia. Mrs. Grayson will try to fly from Maine to Denmark. A German Heinkel plane is coming here, via the Azores.

WHEN this was written yesterday afternoon in Los Angeles, at 7 o'clock, East Liverpool time, 4 o'clock California time, four big Army planes were flying over the business part of the city.

RESCUED FLYERS SAIL FOR AZORES

"SAFE AND SANE FLIGHT" HER AIM

For "safe and sane" transatlantic flights, Mrs. Frances Grayson, above, had an amphibian plane constructed. Her monoplane, Dawn, below, constructed for her New York-Copenhagen flight attempt, is of this type.

Mrs. Frances Grayson Again Defers Flight

WOMAN TRIES LONGEST FLIGHT

CROYDON AIRDRONE, England, Oct. 14.—The longest airplane flight ever attempted by a woman began at 2:40 o'clock this afternoon when Mrs. Keith Miller hopped off for Australia in a small monoplane piloted by Capt. William Lancaster, of the air force reserve. The distance of the flight is 13,000 miles.

30,000 SHANSI TROOPS TRAPPED

PEKING, Oct. 14.—Eighty thousand Shansi soldiers, members of the army that tried to drive into Peking from the northwest, have been cut off by Marshal Chang Tso Lin's troops and are wandering through the hills at the mercy of the Pekingese forces. It was announced today by a spokesman for Dictator Marshal Chang.

The spokesman said that the Shansi soldiers cannot make their way back into the home province, because the railway line has been cut, and that they face annihilation or capture by the Pekingese.

Residents of this city—native and foreign—are calm in the face of fighting that has been raging around it.

Unfavorable Weather Reports Forces Postponement of Take-Off of "The Dawn" for Denmark.

OLD ORCHARD BEACH, Maine, Oct. 14.—"We have got to wait until the weather man over the sea smiles for us," said Mrs. Frances Grayson today, indicating that possibly her flight to Copenhagen, Denmark, might have to be postponed again this evening as it was this morning.

"Fog banks show off Halifax and a storm is raging at sea," she continued. "A storm makes for rough water, and if we were forced to land our 'Dawn' would not fare well. Also I get terribly seasick traveling on the water."

"Our plans are all mapped out and we simply cannot be hurried. We are going to be successful. I am determined to be the first American woman—the first woman in the world—to span the Atlantic by air."

OLD ORCHARD, Maine, Oct. 14.—Due to unfavorable weather reports, Mrs. Frances Grayson announced at 5:30 a. m. today that she was forced again to postpone her flight to Denmark.

All was in preparation for the take-off at sunrise.

Mrs. Grayson said she hoped weather conditions would be favorable for a take-off across the Atlantic by 8 o'clock tonight.

At 5 a. m. weather reports from the Radio Corporation of America, the S. S. Leviathan and Sable Island were brought to the plane's crew at their hotel. After studying the reports for a half hour, Mrs. Grayson announced that the flight had been postponed.

She expressed keen disappointment but was convinced that an attempt to take-off would have been foolhardy.

The next low tide is at 8 o'clock tonight and Mrs. Grayson said she hoped to be able to take advantage of it and start for Copenhagen.

Weather reports stated that a 45-mile-an-hour wind was blowing half way across their route and the S. S.

POLICE THWART SUICIDE PLAN OF PRISONER IN CITY JAIL

George Wasson, 45, Potter, Attempts to Hang Self.

WIRE IS USED

Desk Sergeant Toland Arrives in Time to Save Him.

Believed to be suffering from a mental disorder, George Wasson, 45, Gardendale potter, made an unsuccessful attempt to hang himself with a piece of electric light wire in the city jail at 10 o'clock this morning.

With one end of the wire wrapped tightly around his neck, the other end tied to the iron bars of his cell, Wasson was preparing to let himself fall when his plan was thwarted by Desk Sergeant George Toland. Toland unfasted the wire, removed the prisoner's belt, necktie and handkerchief and placed him in another cell.

Wasson was arrested in the Central fire station by Patrolman Norman McFarland last night on a charge of intoxication. He was lying on the floor when firemen found him.

At the city hall Wasson was locked in a cell in the ladies' quarters. Police claim that he "threw" a piece of electric light wire from the top of his cell.

She emerged from the channel on the English side soon after midnight this morning, having made the swim in 16 hours and ten minutes.

The other English woman who have made the swim in the last few weeks are Miss Mercedes Gletze and Dr. Dorothy Logan, also known as Mona McLennan.

DAMAGES COACH TO AVERT CRASH

Buick coach, owned by Abe Polonsky, Market House fish dealer, and driven by Benjamin Travis, colored, was damaged when it hurdled the curb onto the street car tracks in the Wellsville-East Liverpool road yesterday afternoon.

Travis was traveling behind a man who was riding a horse. The horse became frightened, throwing the rider to the road. Travis, in an effort to avert striking the man, swerved the machine onto the car tracks.

The McElravy wrecker brought the damaged automobile to a local garage.

Intrepid Ruth Elder and Haldeman Offered Trip to Paris or Home

Officials at Horta Prepare to Receive Pretty Aviator and Her Pilot, Picked up at Sea in Dramatic Rescue, as Dutch Tanker Speeds Toward Port.

LISBON DISPATCH REPORTS YANKEES TRANSFERRED TO ANOTHER VESSEL

Early Advices Make no Mention of Trans-Ocean Jumpers Being Taken Off Barendrecht, But Said Steamer Would Put in at Azores Tomorrow to Land Them.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The Cosulich line steamer, President Wilson, now in the Mediterranean, will be ordered off its chartered course and put into the Azores Islands for the express purpose of receiving Ruth Elder, as a special guest, if the girl flyer approves of the plan, it was announced today at the company's headquarters.

"We will send her on to Paris or return her to New York, whichever she desires," Guiseppi Cosulich, president of the company, said.

THREE OTHER FLIGHTS UNDER WAY AS WORLD AWAITS RUTH ELDER STORY

While the world awaits full details of the rescue of Ruth Elder and George Haldeman, who came down at sea during an attempted trans-Atlantic flight, other hazardous flights across the Atlantic are under way.

Dieudonne Costes and Lieutenant Lebrun, French aviators, hopped off from St. Louis, Senegal, with Natal as their objective.

The Junkers hydroplane, piloted by Fritz Loose, started today for Lisbon for the Azores and may continue to America as perfect.

The Heinkel hydroplane piloted by Horst Merz, made a new start from Wilhelmshaven for Amsterdam on a flight to New York.

Mrs. Frances Grayson still awaits favorable weather on the Maine coast for her projected flight to Copenhagen.

HORTA, THE AZORES, Oct. 12.—The S. S. Barendrecht carrying Ruth Elder and Captain George Haldeman, will arrive here tomorrow, according to advices received today.

Officials are making preparations to afford the flyers a reception and give them every comfort they may need.

Lisbon reports that the flyers had been transferred to another ship are not confirmed here and all advices state they will come into port on the Barendrecht.

Plans for Miss Elder's departure from Horta await her arrival.

LISBON, Oct. 14.—A dispatch from the Azores today stated that Ruth Elder and George Haldeman, the American flyers picked up by the Dutch tanker Barendrecht when their plane "American Girl," was forced down in the Atlantic while attempting a non-stop flight from New York to Paris, have been transhipped to the steamship Signale.

"AMERICAN GIRL" FORCED DOWN AFTER FLYING 3,000 MILES ACROSS OCEAN

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The attention of two continents today were centered upon a little tank steamer which was ploughing through the troughs of the Atlantic ocean towards the Azores.

On the steamer were Miss Ruth Elder, daring aviator, and her copilot, Captain George Haldeman, miraculously saved from death in the ocean wastes when their plane, "American Girl," was forced down in a flight that was to have terminated at Paris.

The steamer, Barendrecht, was expected to reach the Azores tomorrow morning.

Meanwhile today, efforts were being made to get in touch with the small Dutch oil tanker by wireless and vessels were rushing out to meet her in order to supplement that measure announcement yesterday that the flyers had been rescued and the plane burned.

The Barendrecht carries only a small wireless and was unable to get word from the flyers.

"I AM HAPPIEST MAN IN WORLD," SAYS HUSBAND OF PRETTY FLYER

BALBOA, Canal Zone, Oct. 14.—Lyle Womack, husband of Ruth Elder, the daring trans-Atlantic aviator, who was rescued at sea yesterday after her plane had been forced down in the ocean, today was awaiting further word from his wife before deciding whether to sail to the United States to meet her or wait her arrival here.

Womack was here visiting his parents. He received a message from his wife after a sleepless night and day of haunting the cable office for news of her.

"I've been through 17 hells," he said, "but now I am the happiest man in the world."

"I have cabled my love to the bravest girl in the world."

"We expect to live in the Canal Zone when Ruth gets back, but I will probably go to New York to meet her and accompany her here."

"I am sorry she did not make Paris. I was behind her attempt one thousand per cent."

Womack said he was acquainted with Captain Haldeman, Miss Elder's copilot, and knew him to be a fine man.

Trans-Atlantic Pilots Are Rescued After They Battle Against Storms

(Copyright, 1927, By International News Service.)

ABOARD S. S. BARENDRECHT, BOUND FOR AZORES, Oct. 14.—The rescue of Ruth Elder and Captain George Haldeman was effected after two daring flyers had battled for hours against the terrific storm in the skies.

The "American Girl" had excellent flying during Tuesday night and Wednesday but on Wednesday night it hit a storm area which caused both pilots to exert their utmost energies to keep the ship aloft.

Miss Elder states very frankly that both were worried for fear they would not be able to bring their plane through the storm.

Yesterday morning the two flyers, seeking to get out of the storm area, veered southward and were headed towards the coast of Spain when their oil line failed.

With their gauges showing a failure in oil supply and their engine heating rapidly, Miss Elder and Haldeman knew they could not keep the ship in the air long and as soon as they sighted the Barendrecht they came down.

The landing of the aeroplane upon the sea by the two flyers was executed safely and was a fine bit of aerial maneuvering, but when attempts were made to salvage the aeroplane, it exploded and burned up. It is believed that the overheated engine caused the explosion.

Miss Elder and Haldeman came down after they had been in the air for 25 hours and had flown nearly 3,000 miles, according to

One of Nature's Great Secrets Is What Becomes

Of the seals in the seas of Alaska when they disappear. Nobody knows what becomes of the mothers of our best furs from the time that they get out of sight or of discovery the latter part of August or early in September until they return at the end of April or the beginning of May. Somehow and from somewhere, thus far said to be unknown, a signal comes over the fog — wreathed reefs and rocks, and they slip and skip away into the Bering sea, and all tracing of them is futile, until they suddenly come back and appear at play along the shores of their old chosen playground.

None of the wise, prying eyes of scientists or merely curious inquires has yet learned the mystery of seals.

Waterway Obstruction

Opposition in Canada to the proposed deep waterway from the Great Lakes to the sea, via the St. Lawrence, is centered almost entirely in Montreal, as American opposition centers in New York. The Montreal argument is more interesting than convincing.

That city, now the leading seaport of Canada by virtue of its being the head of deep draught navigation on the St. Lawrence, insists that if the river were deepened above it, ocean shipping would pass right through without stopping, and that would be unfair to Montreal.

Whether Montreal would really lose shipping business is a legitimate question for debate. There might be less rehandling of freight. Just what share of the increased traffic in big ships Montreal would get, under the new system, is a matter for experts to determine. Probably it would still get enough to sustain its prosperity. But the really interesting thing is a fact which Montreal calmly ignores.

It was Dominion money that made Montreal the head of navigation. Canada spent many millions of dollars in dredging a 30-foot channel up to Montreal, so that deep sea vessels might come to her docks. That was what made Montreal a great seaport. Now, after having been enriched by the expenditure of national money, Montreal claims a vested interest and denies the right of the Dominion to carry the work farther by making a deep channel clear through to Lake Ontario. She objects to sharing transportation benefits with the upper river and Great Lakes ports and the population of the Middle West.

Modern Bowmen

Hunters from Pittsburgh have gone up into the wilds of New Brunswick, Canada, armed with bows and arrows, to hunt moose. They wisely ask that their identity be not revealed unless they succeed, being afraid of ridicule. They are said to be the first white men who have ever tackled that particular sport.

They may bag some moose, at that. The Indians succeeded pretty well with the bow and arrow, even when their arrows were merely tipped with flint. Why not white men, with steel-pointed darts and bows as good as any ever made by savages, or better? There is no reason why white men shouldn't handle a bow as well as a man of any other color.

Our whites, anyway, are only a few generations removed from such practice. And they beat more primitive races in nearly all the sports. Americans have hunted big game in Africa lately with bow and arrow, not fearing to meet even lions with that primitive weapon.

Meanwhile archery is growing popular as a peaceful sport, for both men and women. Many a suburban lawn reveals a picturesque tableau out of medieval life—young folks shooting arrows at a mark.

Add fencing, which for some unexplained reason seems to have waned in popularity lately, and we shall have a revival of two fine sports as old as civilization, and more fascinating than croquet and tennis.

The Foolish Owl

An entertaining bird story comes from Fort William, on Lake Superior. A mallard duck was swimming on the lake, along toward evening, and a big owl was sitting on the shore watching it. Suddenly some hunters came along in an automobile. The car scared the duck, and it rose and flew off, just above the surface of the water.

The owl, seeing his prey escaping, immediately took after the duck and was overhauling it when the duck made a clever nose-dive into the water.

Instantly the owl followed. And that was where the owl was out of luck. It could keep afloat, but could not pursue the duck nor take off again from the water. The hunter rowed out and caught it and put it in a cage. The duck got away.

So owls are not so wise as they are reputed to be.

Any bird that looks as wise as an owl does should know better than to alight on the water without pontoons. Though to tell the truth, some of our owl-aviators don't seem to be any wiser.

New Fire Hazard

A house in Spokane, Wash., was set on fire by goldfish. Or at least, by a goldfish bowl.

The sun shone through the bowl, making everything look very pretty. But the globular bowl, acting as a double convex lens, focussed the rays on a window curtain and set fire to it, and would have burned down the house and boiled the fish if the fire department hadn't arrived promptly.

It is time that attention was called to this particular fire hazard. Insurance companies may soon be putting a clause in their policies forbidding a goldfish bowl in the sun room along with a can of gasoline in the cellar.

"As man is now constituted," says Thomas A. Edison, "it is impossible for him to be happy." Then why doesn't Edison do something about it?

When Mayor Bill Thompson of Chicago says he's "going to see that the King of England keeps his nose out of our business," maybe George wonders, in his mild way, whether Bill himself isn't getting just a wee bit snooty.

The Real Hero of The Football Game—

By Fontaine Fox

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Thoughts while strolling: The cigar coupon beggars who make a living at this racket. That noble old Roman—William Muldoon. A specialist in Apache dancing has an electric sign. The block in the Fifties where they swap autos as they used to swap horses.

What's become of people who called servants "help"? And the Congress gaffer? Those fossilized families who refuse to be transplanted out of old brown stone fronts to gaudy apartments. Jazzy lunch officers at a window filled with ship models. A midget newsboy sitting on a fire plug. The unmistakable odor of fish. Those sedate men who sheepishly buy cheap western magazines. Youngsters on stilts kicking a football. Tommy Lyman, the pale cafe tenor. Ditch diggers driving from sanitary paper cups.

The ash pickers who rake refuse cans with spiked sticks. Two once famous night clubs now in a dark gloom. Marked down sales of garden tools. Japanese chicken dinner places. Fire chiefs who race around town in two-seated red autos, apparently looking for a fire.

The curio store where suppressed books are bootlegged. The long-haired musicians who loaf around Carnegie Hall, Virginia, Carolina and Vermont tea rooms. With polka parrots. Persian cats and books of poetry. A nervous man in front of a church looking at his watch.

A wrecked auto and a bent street lamp. Fur stores with bearded Russian proprietors. Hatless young men with horn rimmed glasses andVarsity sweaters, carrying ukes. The street corner roasted chestnut-vendors appear. Fall is around the corner.

A singing, disheveled woman is pushed into a Black Maria. Armand Vescey, the composer. The new hotel city around the Plaza fountain. With a 15,000 transient population. And a bellhop brigade of more than 200. Cornelius Vanderbilt out for a walk.

Acrobatic dancing schools have become the fad of the moment. The patronage is composed largely of women who seek to reduce and have no intention of exploiting themselves professionally. They go through a somewhat torturous process of bending, high kicking and attempting to master the split.

A testy gentleman stepping into one of those swanky British haberdasheries, inquired to see one of the polka dots on display in the window.

"You mean the spotted cravat?" drawled a clerk.

"No," he snapped, "that egg-stain on your tie is a spot. I want one with polka dots." He got it, bless him!

In the days when garbage was valuable, there was a man and wife known around New York as odd characters. Daily they made the rounds with push carts, collecting swill, which they sold to hog raisers. In this messy business they saved and invested in real estate. Today their grandson lives in elegant styles as the sole heir to the swollen fortune. He is a collector of rare first editions. From swill to swell.

In a block in the East Sixties four of the finest homes are owned by Italians imported to America more than 40 years ago as bootblack under the padrone system.

An avenue silversmith is showing a gold-plated traveling cocktail shaker set that retails for $750. He makes the generous announcement that there is no charge for engraving the initials.

Twenty years ago it was possible to buy a well-stocked corner saloon for that.

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Canada Fights Rum Runners.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 14.—It is not generally understood in this country that Canada, one of the chief sources of supply of the moisture that keeps the United States from becoming as dry as dust, is afflicted with a rum-runner problem. Such is the case, however. It is even asserted that liquor of illicit manufacture is being smuggled into the wet provinces of Canada from this country.

But Canada's real problem is to keep the rum runners out of her dry maritime provinces, Nova Scotia, in particular, and in dealing with it she has just developed a new "chaser" that may engage the interest of our Government. It is a boat of very high speed and its tests have shown it capable of doing things that boats ordinarily do not do. Making a sharp turn at high speed as if it were on a banked speedway for instance.

Two of these boats have just been put into commission and if they prove as successful as anticipated a small fleet of them will be doing duty before many months. The two that are now being tried out are the "Behave" and the "Beebe." They are motor boats with high-powered engines, and they are capable of developing a speed of close to 40 miles an hour.

Their especial field of activity is to be in the innumerable bays and inlets of Nova Scotia that contribute so much to Canada's Atlantic coast line of 2400 miles, and that have proved such delightful havens for the rum smugglers.

That arm of the Canadian Government that deals or attempts to deal with the rum runners is known as the customs preventive service. It has a fleet of some 30 vessels, but most of them are of a draft such that they can not pursue the rum running vessels into the shallow coastal waters and it was learned by bitter experience that the service would have either to bring forth a new type of vessel or practically abandon all hope of interfering seriously with the activities of the smugglers.

Where Captain Kidd Operated.

Nova Scotia, as the geographies and atlases reveal to those who have not done first-hand surveying, is a long, narrow peninsula and the island of Cape Breton, which is separated from the peninsula on the northeast by the gut of Canso, a channel 16 miles in length and from one-half mile to two miles in width. In fact, all Nova Scotia would be an island but for a slender cord that binds it with the mainland. Some convulsion of nature cut the cord that once made Cape Breton Island a part of the peninsula that ought to be an island.

The greatest length of the Nova Scotian peninsula is about 280 miles and its greatest width from 50 to 100 miles. It is bounded on the north by the Straits of Northumberland and the Gulf of St. Lawrence, on the south and southeast by the Atlantic Ocean, and on the northwest by the Bay of Fundy. Cape Breton Island, which might well be an extension of the peninsula, as has been stated, has a maximum length of 100 miles and an extreme width of 85 miles.

Nova Scotia is famed for many things. It was the home of the Acadians. In Port Royal, settled in 1604, it has the second oldest town or city in North America. It has regions where more hay of a superior quality can be grown to the acre than in any place else in the world. It has produced a long and impressive array of men who have won distinction in many lines of endeavor.

And then, among its many coves, inlets, and harbors, it includes St. Margaret's Bay where the notorious Captain Kidd, is said to have sought sanctuary frequently during the few years he was making a record as one of the world's best or most efficient pirates and setting styles in boots, head-knives, and daggers for modern masquerades and comic operas. It is of legend, too, that Captain Kidd chanced much of his unlawfully acquired treasure on the shores of that bay, but none of it has ever been retrieved.

Today, or yesterday, or tomorrow, rum runners haunt the shallow waters of St. Margaret's.

No Legend About Rum Runners. Kidd escaped capture because he had the faster ship and one of relatively light draft, and some of the rum runners still do the same thing in the same place. The powerful cruisers of the Canadian preventive service have not been able to follow the smugglers into the shallow waters of that bay and the multitudinous in-

BROOKE COUNTY SETTING RECORD

All previous records for marriage licenses at the Brooke county marriage bureau issued in a year, are expected to be broken this year, according to County Clerk Abe Montgomery. Records for the first nine months of the year reveal an increase in the license business over that of the same period in 1926. Under normal conditions the remaining three months should bring the total high enough to break all previous records, is the opinion of Clerk Montgomery. Passing the 3,000 mark in 1926, broke all previous records in this county and likewise the district for marriage licenses issued. Approximately 400 applications for licenses were refused in 1926.

Dry Agents Visit County. Federal agent, George B. Heide, of the prohibition enforcement unit, and state agent, Alonzo Prince, made a visit to Hancock county yesterday checking on cases that will be presented to the federal court next week at Wheeling.

The first three sections were launched last July. More than 20,000 tons of steel and 3,500,000 rivets will be used before the dock is finished. The sections will be fitted together in the water and tested, then divided in twain to be towed to Singapore through the Suez canal.

FLYING BOAT SAFEST METHOD FOR OCEAN SKIP

Comfortable, Quick Atlantic Crossing is Promised.

RIDE OUT STORMS

Pioneer Aircraft Maker Predicts Passenger Service.

LONDON.—The day has come when, if we choose, an absolutely safe, quick, and comfortable crossing of the Atlantic by air can be made, in the opinion of S. E. Sanders, managing director of S. E. Sanders, of Cowes, and a pioneer in design and construction of airplanes, seaplanes, and flying boats.

Flying boats, built according to proved theories, could skip the ocean from England to the United States, according to Sanders.

Carry Passengers. "Flying boats," said Sanders, "could leave Southampton Water, England, hop to Queenstown Harbor, Ireland, then jump straight across to Newfoundland, refuel, and fly to New York harbor, landing passengers there."

"The machine for the job will probably be a biplane without unnecessary weight. She will be an aerial liner, fitted for passenger's comfort. Two engines of about 1,000 horsepower will be her sole power. It would be possible for less than $500,000.

Would Ride Out Storms. "This machine, if forced down, would ride out any storm comfortably as a sea-going vessel which was hove-to. Her construction would make her unsinkable."

Sanders' theory of the flying-boat being the future air liner of the Atlantic conforms to the view held by Sir Alan Cobham, famous British long-distance pilot, who believes that attempts to fly the Atlantic in single-engine everyday airplanes, are "stunts" and not true aviation.

Wheat Pool Claims Success. The latest figures show that the Canadian wheat pool, the largest farmers' co-operative in the world, has been a pronounced success, its supporters assert. Formed in the fall of 1923, it now has a membership of 142,000 farmers, and handles about 200,000,000 bushels of wheat annually, as well as from 20,000,000 to 30,000,000 bushels of other grains, with a money turnover of more than $300,000,000. Since 1923 members of the pool have received $500,000,000.

Opens His Home to Mothers. Teodoro R. Yanco, a well known Filipino philanthropist, recently turned his beautiful home in Manila into a maternity dispensary, which he will maintain out of his private funds. He has employed a doctor, and sends a nurse daily to the homes of newly-born babies.

Manila is to have a season of American grand opera.

"BIG PARADE" IS VIDOR HIT

Director Scores Success in War Epic at American.

Now that "The Big Parade," King Vidor's production for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, now playing at the American theatre, is the sensation of motion picture circles, people are beginning to discuss the director of it. Some seem to think this man has just come to the front and been "made" suddenly by a whim of Fate.

On the contrary, Vidor has been making better pictures for some years than most other directors, and he is by no means a novice at the game. He has been active in the making of motion pictures for more than fifteen years, starting in as a youth directing, acting and financing his own productions. Then he came to Hollywood and started as an actor, then as an assistant director and finally directing on his own hook. Vidor has come up through the ranks and knows every angle of the industry.

Also "The Big Parade," at least its present successful production, is not a lucky chance. Ever since the outbreak of the World war, Vidor has told his intimates that he felt sure he could make the great war picture when he got the chance. Things that strike home and become real lasting drama in this latest picture sensation were really developed in Vidor's mind ten years ago.

He has watched closely every war picture and tried to find just where the mistakes were made; he has always contended that the public would not be ready to accept the real big war photoplay until the time was ripe and the shock of the war removed. It has been his contention all along that the big war play should not come forth until ten years had passed since the beginning of the world outbreak.

Vidor was born in Galveston, Texas, and began making pictures when he was eighteen. His father was eager that he enter the lumber business and first sent him to military school at San Antonio and then to college at Baltimore. When Vidor came home he went right back to picture making and his father decided it was useless to oppose him, so the youth was permitted to journey to Hollywood, where he has been working ever since.

R. L. CAWOOD GETS PATENT

Uncle Sam Acts Upon
Invention of Pulverizer.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14—A pulverizer has won a patent for Richard

L. Cawood, East Liverpool, Ohio, according to announcement today by the United States patent office.

Cawood had a wait of nearly two years for action on his patent application, which was filed Nov. 12, 1925. There has been so assignment of the patent.

The invention is described as follows:

"A high speed impact pulverizer comprising a casing, high speed rotary pallets within the casing, and an inner peripheral lining of rubber for the casing, together with a metallic carrier for said lining, and means for detachably clamping said carrier with it; attached rubber lining to the casing."

FRIGIDAIRE WINS IN SEVERE TEST

Preserving of milk in a sweet and wholesome condition for a period of 27 days in a Frigidaire household cabinet during a recent test in Houston, Texas is indicative of the refrigeration service the modern housewife has a right to expect as part of her kitchen equipment, Morris Carnahan, local leader, said yesterday.

The test was conducted by two local newspapers in conjunction with the Frigidaire dealer, the milk being sealed in the Frigidaire cabinet and the refrigerator placed in a lighted show window. Tests were made by the newspapers at weekly intervals. The milk remained sweet and in good condition for 27 days, when the tests were discontinued.

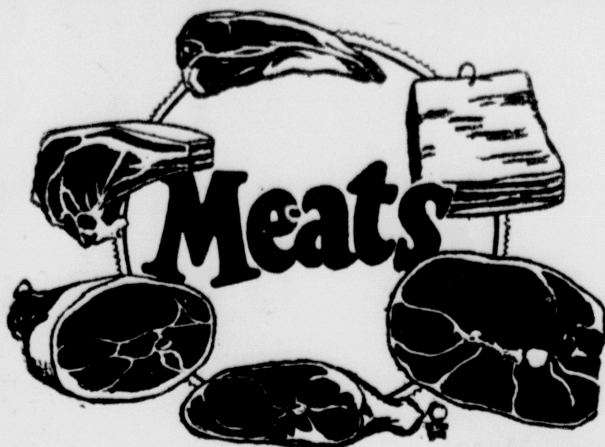

"The electric refrigerator has made it possible for housewives throughout the world to control their food supplies as never before," Carnahan said. "Women with Frigidaire in their kitchens are learning the convenience of marketing only once a week, and of being able to buy large quantities of perishable foods offered at bargain prices. Foods can now be bought in quantity and preserved for extended periods of time, with never a fear of spoilage."

"Experiments being conducted have established the fact that the modern housewife is able to keep foods in her Frigidaire from a week to several months longer than was formerly possible with limited refrigeration resources."

GEORGE REMUS' DIVORCED WIFE AIDS HIS DEFENSE

BOOTLEG KING WEEPS WHEN HE LEARNS OF ACT

Woman he Left Raises
$2,000 for One-time Millionaire.

PRISONER "BROKE"

Hamilton County Grand Jury to Vote Murder Count.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 14.—The Hamilton county grand jury early today returned an indictment charging George Remus, former "bootleg king" with first degree murder in connection with the killing of his wife, Mrs. Imogene Remus, whom Remus shot to death in Eden park here Oct. 6.

The indictment charges Remus "with deliberate and premeditated malice" did "murder and kill" Mrs. Remus.

Remus probably will be arraigned Saturday morning.

The indictment was returned after two days spent by the grand jury in probing the killing.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 14.—George Remus, defiant slayer has sat stolidly in the Hamilton county jail for eight days, repeating the story of the hunt to death of his wife, with no emotion but hate in his stony eyes. But today he wept unashamed as he was told his first wife, the woman he left to take with his victim the trail that led to a palace, a federal penitentiary, and now a murderer's cell, has raised $2,000 and sent it to Cincinnati to aid his defense on the murder charge.

The money was brought here by Romola Remus, daughter of Mrs. Lillian Krause Remus, the first wife.

"I have not a dime in the world," said the former bootlegger. "This sacrifice of the wife I deserted and my wonderful daughter will assist me beyond belief."

Will Plead Not Guilty.
The Hamilton county grand jury is expected to indict Remus today. It has heard eye-witnesses of the shooting, relatives of the slain woman and associates of Remus, including George F. Conners, his premier of rum king days, who has been making an unsuccessful search for $1,800,000 Remus claims. Mrs. Imogene Remus and Franklin L. Dodge, department of justice agent and her asserted paramour, hid in bank vaults.

It was expected notice of the indictment would be served on Remus in his cell by noon today. Under Ohio law, this would allow him to plead at noon tomorrow. Otherwise he will be arraigned Monday, before Judge Chester Shook of criminal court.

Remus will plead not guilty, alleging that the slaying was justified by the acts of Mrs. Remus and Dodge.

Judge Shook and Charles P. Taft, Hamilton county prosecutors, have indicated that Remus' expressed wish for a speedy trial will be granted.

No Request for Ship.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Several naval vessels are at Gibraltar and would be available to bring home Miss Ruth Elder and Captain George Haldeman, it was said at the navy department today.

The ships which are near the Azores include the Cruiser Detroit and a flotilla of destroyers.

The navy has received no request to send a ship for Miss Elder and her co-pilot, Capt. Haldeman.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache Often
Means You Have Not Been Drinking
Enough Water.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it may mean you have been eating foods which create acids, says a well-known authority. An excess of such acids overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and sluggish. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, waste scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the system, so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink. Drink lots of soft water.

REMUS' DAUGHTER STANDS BY

Romola Remus, 29, above, daughter of George Remus, Cincinnati bootleg king who shot and killed his second wife on the eve of divorce proceedings, has declared her faith in her father. The girl, a daughter of a previous marriage, plans to assist in every way she can at his trial.

American Girl

in touch with shore stations; the news had to be relayed by other vessels. The Barendrecht was setting a course to Baytown, Texas, but after picking up Miss Elder and Haldeman changed her course towards the Azores.

When it fell, the American Girl was about 350 miles northeast of the Azores. A broken oil line forced it down when it had flown approximately 3,000 miles across the Atlantic.

Le Bourget Crowds Disappointed.
Crowds waiting at Le Bourget field to greet the winsome aviatrix who was going to show Paris what the American girls wear, had about given up hope for the plane.

A message signed by Miss Elder, stating "both Haldeman and I okay," was supplemented by a radio from the ship's master, as follows:

"Barendrecht saved crew of flying engine NX 1384 from New York to Paris. Both well. Engine destroyed by fire while saving. Trying to land at Azores. Position 43.34 north, 21.39 west."

This was the first word from the flyers after a foreboding silence of 38 hours.

A delayed radio from the steamer American Banker had given the world news of the "American Girl" five hours after the take-off, when passengers of the ship sighted the plane approximately 450 miles out to sea.

Although 25 other liners and 75 lesser vessels dotted the ship lanes over which Haldeman had plotted his course, and passengers and crews kept watch for the "American Girl," the plane was swallowed in oblivion until Haldeman set her down alongside the Barendrecht.

Escape From Death Amazing.

While Miss Elder and Haldeman were on their way to the Azores islands today, the story of their flight as reconstructed from fragmentary reports revealed that their escape from the fate of more than a score of other trans-oceanic aviators was truly an amazing one.

But as enthralling as the dangers they battled in the storm-tossed sky was the fickle hand of luck that swung to their aid at the crucial moment and sent the sluggish tramp tanker across their path.

This change in fortune came after bad luck had dogged the trail of the fearless fliers. Storms prevailed in varying intensity from a short time after the American Girl took off from Roosevelt field until it glided into the sea, 350 miles northeast of the Azores, weather authorities indicated.

Navy weather reports indicate that a gale from the north was blowing when Miss Elder reached the vicinity of the Azores and that her plane was caught in it. Navy experts believe that the plane was tremendously buffeted when the gale veered and they consider the landing without disaster under such conditions remarkable.

The flyers carried their plane against the fierce odds of the elements for a total of thirty-five hours. They encountered the worst of the storm at 9 o'clock Wednesday night, the cold reducing the oil temperature to zero.

Cruiser May Pick Up Flyers.

The navy is employing every agency of communication to get in touch with the rescue ship. It was hinted that a cruiser or destroyer may be dispatched to pick up the flyers and land them if such a course is advisable. Such a procedure would mark one of the few times in history that a woman has been permitted to travel on an American warship.

Assurance that the Barendrecht, originally bound for Baytown, Texas, has altered her course to land the flyers at the Azores was contained in a message made public today by the steamer's agents in Rotterdam. It said:

"We are due at the Azores Saturday morning when we will land the rescued aviators."

The Barendrecht, a small 2,900-ton craft, radio equipment of which is apparently only of comparatively short range, sent out a message of the rescue to be relayed by vessels with more powerful sending equipment, at 8:06 yesterday morning. Time required in transmission, however, delayed delivery in Paris until 5:25 p. m. at 12:35 p. m., New York time.

About 300,000, which is one-fourth of the miners in England, are still unemployed.

JUNKERS PLANE OFF ON FLIGHT TO NEW YORK

Hop by Way of Azores
Starts From Lisbon.

ACTRESS ABOARD

Trans-Atlantic Jump Began More Than
Week Ago.

HORTA, THE AZORES, Oct. 14.—The Junkers seaplane, piloted by Fritz Loose, arrived here today at 11:15 from Lisbon, on its flight from Germany to New York.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 14.—The Heinkel hydroplane D-1220, which hopped off at Wilhelmshaven shortly after noon, arrived here at 2:35 o'clock.

LISBON, Oct. 14.—The Junkers plane D-1230 hopped off at 12:39 p. m. today on a flight to New York by way of the Azores. A non-stop flight may be attempted if weather conditions are good.

The plane, piloted by Fritz Loose and carrying Rolf Starke, Karl Loewe, and Lilly Dillenz, Viennese actress, started to make a flight to the United States via the Azores more than a week ago. It flew from Nordenf, Germany, to Amsterdam, and from there started out to Lisbon.

Off Cape Roca, Portugal, however, it was forced down into the sea and was later taken to Lisbon.

Heinkel "Bus" Resumes Voyage.

BERLIN, Oct. 14.—Although German public opinion demands a cessation of trans-Atlantic flights, owing to the poor performance of German planes, the Heinkel hydroplane, piloted by Horst Merz hopped off at 12:13 this afternoon from Wilhelmshaven for Amsterdam on another attempted start of a flight to America.

The Junkers plane has left Lisbon for the Azores.

The Heinkel plane has required three days to cover 180 miles, and the Junkers plane has made two forced landings between Germany and Lisbon.

The poor showing of the German planes has caused great chagrin in Germany, where it is maintained that the German air lines are the best in Europe.

Lufthansa, the German commercial air service, has announced the inauguration of aerial freight lines next spring.

Copenhagen Awaits Flyers.

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 14.—Detailed arrangements were under way here today to receive the Sikorsky plane "The Dawn," which is scheduled to hop off at Old Orchard, Maine, tonight carrying Mrs. Frances Grayson, of New York, and two men pilots.

The marine airbase at Kastrup will be illuminated with red lights and powerful searchlights, and all necessary arrangements are being made at the naval airbase. High powered searchlights will shoot their rays skyward from barges.

Frenchmen Off For Brazil.

PARIS, Oct. 14.—A message received today at Le Bourget from St. Louis, Senegal, stated that Dieudonne Costes and Lieutenant Le Brix hopped off for Natal, Brazil, at 6:23 a. m.

This is the second leg of the French pilots' flight from Paris to Buenos Aires, Argentina. From Natal they expect to fly to Rio de Janeiro and from there to Buenos Aires.

RIO JANEIRO, Brazil, Oct. 14.—Everything was made ready at Port Natal today for the arrival of the French Aviators Dieudonne Costes and Joseph Le Brix, who hopped off at St. Louis, Senegal, this morning. The governor of the state will receive them as guests of the state.

While advices from St. Louis stated that the flyers were making Port Natal their objective, it was regarded as possible that they might alter their course and land at Recife (Pernambuco).

The San Fernando radio station has requested all steamships along the line of flight to flash word of the planes progress.

FORMER SHELBY TREASURER HEED

SIDNEY, O., Oct. 14.—Alphonso Beery, former treasurer of Shelby county, was arrested at his home here today, after three indictments charging the embezzlement of county funds were returned late Wednesday by the Shelby county grand jury. He is being held at the county jail without bond until a preliminary hearing can be arranged, probably Saturday.

A shortage of $19,000 in Beery's accounts was reported two weeks ago by state examiners, following an examination of Beery's records.

A shortage in Beery's accounts became evident July 20, when Beery reported he had been robbed of $37,000 in county funds.

$500,000 BLAZE IN WINSTON-SALEM

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., Oct. 14.—Fire of undetermined origin today damaged five stores in the heart of the Winston-Salem business district, causing damage estimated at $500,000.

Gilmers, Inc., a chain department store, opening on three streets here, was completely gutted by the flames. Three other stores were partly destroyed. The fire broke out in Gilmers.

Gaming Forgers Caught.

Two men who came near breaking the bank in the Kursal at Ostend ended their streak of luck in jail. The cropper became suspicious when an unusual number of 500 franc counters appeared on the table. One of the counters was examined and proved to be false. The two players were arrested and found to be in possession of 80,000 franc worth of the forged counters, while in their lodgings were found more, representing 200,000 francs.

AMERICAN AVIATRIX SMASHES TWO RECORDS IN DRAMATIC OCEAN HOP

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Although failing in its ultimate goal, Ruth Elder's dramatic bid to be the first woman to fly across the Atlantic succeeded in smashing two records, one of which is shared by her pilot navigator, George Haldeman.

The flyers took their plane, American Girl, over a 2,574-mile trans-oceanic course, exceeding by 181 miles the previous record for flight over water established by Lieutenants Hegenberger and Maitland in their flight from San Francisco to Hawaii.

To Miss Elder also goes the record of the longest flight ever made by a woman.

MINSTREL KINGS SING FAVORITES

Jack Richards and Billy Church, stars with Al G. Fields minstrels for more than 10 years, now on the vaudeville stage, will feature the bill which is being offered at the Ceramic theatre today and tomorrow.

Richards and Church, with their beautifully blended voices, will present a group of favorite songs. Their program includes "When You and I were Young Maggie," one of the song hits of the minstrel show in former seasons.

This act is in addition to the Pola Negri picture, "Barbed Wire."

Test Insolvent Debtor Law.

CANTON, Oct. 14.—A suit to test a ruling laid down by Judge A. W. Agler invalidating a provision of the state's old insolvency debtor law, as applied to workhouse prisoners, has been filed in the court of appeals here. The case is scheduled for hearing today.

The law has been cited by various attorneys to effect release of liquor law violators after they had served 60 days in jail. Judge Agler stopped the practice here by holding that the law did not apply to workhouse prisoners.

TODAY

city, and a big Ford plane was making its daily arrival in Los Angeles from San Diego, with an invitation from San Diego's chamber of commerce to fly down and watch San Diego grow for one day.

THOSE that run risks today will have contributed to absolute safety flying in the future. Lindbergh says flying overland with a good pilot and machine is safer now than automobile.

Better machines will soon make ocean flights as simple and safe as a flight over the English channel, for which Northcliffe, a few years ago, offered a $50,000 prize.

MOVING picture shows Lionel Barrymore holding the red-hot branding iron, Allen Pringle providing the snow white shoulder and quivering flesh to which the "red-hot" iron will be applied.

Thousands, shuddering at this branding, will hardly realize that such torture would have been considered natural a few years ago. Men were skinned alive, impaled on sharp shafts and left dying for hours. At the time of Henry the Second, a workman was branded on the cheek with a hot iron, if without permission he left his parish to find work in another.

THOSE Henry the Second workmen may comfort united coal mine workers of America, forbidden by court injunction to interfere with the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Corporation's open shop.

That injunction and others like it will do a good deal to make unions powerless. But it isn't as bad as being branded for good out of your parish to look for work. We do improve, although slowly.

NEAR Riverton, Wyoming, Ted Lee killed 115 rattlesnakes with a shovel. Rattlesnakes rely entirely on poison and conceal, which makes it easy to destroy them. So with those that pervert truth in history, religion, or otherwise. They rely on a poison which is not reliable, and are disposed of easily.

FOUR JUDGMENTS IN CIVIL CASES

Four judgments were handed down by Judge J. C. Hanley in municipal court today.

A finding of $141.60 in favor of the plaintiff was returned in the case of M. I. Morgan against M. E. Grumet for the repair of a motor truck. Motion for a new trial was overruled.

Colin McLean, 524 Broadway, Wellsboro, was awarded $80 and costs for work and labor in a claim against Don R. James, 458 Main street, Wellsboro.

Finding for the plaintiff in the sum of $24.07 was returned in the case of Earl D. Wright, Pennsylvania avenue grocer, against William Morris, Frederick Stearns & Company was given judgment for $50.34 against L. J. Wise.

AUTO CLUB WILL HEAR HEXAMER

Organization of the Junior school boy patrol will be explained by Safety Director Hexamer, Canton, at a meeting of the Inter-Club Automobile association which will be held in the Elks' club, Salem, next Wednesday.

Approximately 75 delegates from the 32 clubs along the Ohio-Pennsylvania state line border will attend. A business session will be held at 3 o'clock in the afternoon with a dinner at 6 o'clock.

E. M. Diehl, secretary of the Columbus County Motor club, attended a meeting of the inter-club executive board in Youngstown when plans for the Salem meeting were discussed.

Automobile Kills Motorman.

KENMORE, Oct. 14.—George Cameron, 53, a motorman for the N. O. P. and L. company, died here after being run down by an automobile while returning to his street car after getting lunch. He leaves a son and daughter in Cleveland and a daughter in Columbus.

dents in the coast line of Nova Scotia. However, it is not legend, but a well established fact, that the liquor smugglers have been delivering liquid treasure along the same coast with impunity.

To combat that sort of thing Canada decided to try a new type of boat, built on the lines of the submarine chasers which raced over the North Sea during the World War. Curiously enough, these boats were constructed, not on the coast, but a thousand miles or more inland, at Gravenhurst, Ontario. They were rated to do 30 miles an hour, and to be seaworthy.

On test last month they ran up to 38 miles an hour, with a promise of even higher speed, and made turns in a wide sweep at that speed, a thing that no boat of that type is supposed to be able to do. A surprising and unexpected phenomenon was that on making these turns the boats, instead of canting outward to the curve, banked like an airplane, and the turns were negotiated safely at the maximum speed. As to their seaworthiness, it is said that the boats scudded through rough seas as if they were out for a pleasure trip.

The boats are 38 feet long, 8 feet in width, and with a 3-foot draft. The engines are of the high compression casual type of 200 horse power. The hulls of the vessels are of solid mahogany, and the fittings and sheathing are to brass, copper and bronze. They are built, it is stated, to withstand the roughest kind of rough treatment and demands that are rarely made upon vessels of their type. The run-running boat that escapes one of them will have to go some and be able to make sharper turns, and more quickly, than any other vessel heretofore designed.

On the foredeck of the new boat is the final argument in the run-running debate—a Maxim machine gun. For night patrols the boat is, of course, equipped with a searchlight. The normal crew required is only three men, but on special occasions the boats will carry ten men. The boats cost approximately $10,000 each and Canadian revenue officials are determined to have an ample equipment of them, provided they stand up under actual service as well as they showed up in the demonstration tests.

F. W. Cowan, chief of the customs preventive service, supervised the designing of the boats, which are patterned after the famous Thornycroft submarine chasers. The latter are said to have stood the terrific pounding of the North Sea during the World War and had been ready for service in any and all kinds of weather.

PARALYSIS DEATH QUARANTINES SALINEVILLE SCHOOL

STOUT CHILD IS VICTIM OF DREAD DISEASE

Clifford, 6, Son of John Stout, Dies in Home.

ILL FOUR DAYS

Funeral Services Were Held Thursday Evening.

Entire first grade of the Salineville Central school building was ordered dismissed yesterday afternoon by Dr. T. T. Church, of Salem, county health commissioner, and the home of John Stout was quarantined, as a result of the death of Clifford Eugene Stout, 6, following a four-day illness of infantile paralysis.

First grade pupils will not return to their studies until Monday, October 23.

The death is the first from the dread disease in the southern section of the county.

The Stout child became ill Saturday and his condition grew worse until his death Wednesday night at 8 o'clock.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by three sisters, Alberta, Dorothy and Edna.

Funeral services were held last night in the home in charge of Rev. A. M. Jenkins. Burial was made in Woodland cemetery. The services were private.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—If any disappointment was felt in speculative circles over the inconsequential decline in the weekly volume of brokers' loans, it was not apparent in the action of the stock market in the early trading today.

Under the leadership of General Motors, radio, international paper, American Smelting and other well-known industrial and specialty shares, the market advanced in good form to a higher range of prices in practically every department. The widely heralded advance in General Motors appeared to have gotten under way under the stimulus of unusually heavy trading, and United States Steel and Colorado Fuel and Iron continued the move which was in progress at Thursday's close.

William C. Durant, recently returned from Europe, Arthur Cullen of Chicago, the Fisher Brothers of Detroit and a few of the well-known Wall Street professionals were generally accorded with the bulk of today's aggressive buying of the speculative favorites in this period. Radio Corporation's new advance, in the face of the poor earnings record of the company this year, was also accredited to professional buying. In all of these stocks a stubborn short interest has

The Gideon Bible class of the Presbyterian church was entertained in the home of Arthur Lewis, West Main street Tuesday evening. The scripture lesson was read by John Johnston. Prayer was led by Rev. W. S. Martin. The class voted to donate $50 to the trustees of the church and the president of the class to appoint a committee to arrange for a musical on Oct. 26. The committee is Allen Maple, R. W. Daley and William Eason.

It was decided to elect officers at the November meeting rather than at the December meeting. The following committee was appointed to make a calendar for the year 1928: O. M. Ashbaugh, John McCollough and Arthur Lewis. Lunch was served by Mrs. Arthur Lewis, assisted by Miss Mayme Graubner and Mrs. Bess Ashbaugh. Games and contests were diversions of the evening. The November meeting will be held at the home of Walter Henderson.

Mrs. John Saxton, of West Main street was struck by an automobile Sunday and badly injured. Mrs. Saxton alighted from her car and stepped in front of a car driven by Wilbur Smith of Grant Hill. Mrs. Saxton's collar bone was broken.

SOCIETY

MISS DOROTHY CRIST, MIDDLETOWN, AND CHARLES H. REINARTZ WED

Pretty Ceremony is Performed in Southern Ohio City by Bridegroom's Father, Dr. J. G. Reinartz.

Announcement was made today of the marriage of Miss Dorothy Crist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Crist of Middletown, and Charles Herbert Reinartz of Ashland, Ky., son of Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Reinartz of Jackson street. The ceremony was solemnized on Tuesday, October 11, in the Bethlehem Lutheran church at Middletown.

The church was a bower of beauty with massed palms, tall baskets of Easter lilies and gladioli. Tall cathedral candles shed a soft glow throughout the edifice. Candles in tall holders tied with tulle, marked the pews.

while the altar niche was lighted by four candelabra, each with seven branches.

Wilbur Crist, a brother of the bride, and Max Markel of Columbus led the wedding procession. Frederick Reinartz, of Philadelphia, a brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. The bridesmaids were Miss Sarah Reinartz of this city, a sister of the bridegroom, who is a student at Thiel college, Greenville, Pa.; Misses Hilda Ross and Helen Brownlee of Dayton. Miss Eleanor Crist, a sister of the bride, was maid-of-honor. Little Miss Helen Marie Reinartz of Middletown, a niece of the bridegroom, served as flower girl. Dressed to depict a rose, she strewed rose petals before the bridal party.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, C. G. Crist, wore a period model gown of ivory satin.

Her long tulle veil was caught in place with a band of orange blossoms. She attended Western college for women at Oxford, specializing in church music. Prior to her marriage she was organist at the Lutheran church in Hamilton.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the local high school and Muhlenberg college at Allentown, Pa., a member of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity and associated with the Ashland branch of the American Rolling Mills company.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents, in Yankee Road, after which Mr. and Mrs. Reinartz left for a southern honeymoon. After November 1, they will be at home to friends in Ashland, Ky.

Labor Invasion Resented.
The importation of Japanese and Chinese expert tobacco workers into the Philippines has started a lively agitation to halt the invasion of foreign labor. Those who champion the move, however, believe that with such workers in the islands "Manila smokes will again come into their own." The importation of expert laborers, provided their stay is limited, is defended on the ground that it will be a tremendous benefit to Filipino laborers in general because of the knowledge and experience the foreign workmen bring with them.

Change Lineup For East Palestine Game

HURST TO EXERCISE SECOND STRING MEN

Subs to Get Chance if Brown and White Doesn't Spring Surprise Strength; Fountain to Start at Halfback.

Unless the Brown and White of East Palestine prove a tougher morsel than Joe Hurst's warriors can chew up with a certain degree of ease, a number of new faces will appear in the Blue and White lineup on the Holy City gridiron tomorrow afternoon.

In view of injuries of varying nature and degrees, the local grid mentor plans to give as many of the regulars as possible an easy afternoon, preserving them for the more difficult games with Martins Ferry, Bellaire, Salem, Wellsville and others and expects to use probably a half-dozen second string men in the Saturday fracas.

His plans along this line, naturally, depend upon the strength of the East Palestine squad. It is a fact that Halfback Lynch sustained a fractured arm at Salineville last week, the East Palestine offense is certain to be weakened considerably, inasmuch as Lynch has proved the principal East Palestine ground gainer in their games to date.

It is almost a certainty, Hurst said today, that Fountain, the colored halfback who has been showing great form in practice workouts the last week or so, will be started at a halfback, with probably Mills or Pusey on the other. The season to date has been a little hard on the regular halves, with Bloor and Mackall feeling the effects of minor injuries and Deems suffering from a twisted knee.

The diminutive Skidmore, however, will general the squad as usual and Captain Frank Kirkham will be at his fullback post.

Witherow, another coming youngster, the lad who grabbed Bloor's pass to score against Akron East a couple of weeks ago, will hold down one of the end jobs, with Dave Anderson at the other.

And, by the way, the local squad doesn't feel so bad about the 12 to 6 defeat at Akron after reading of East's 36 to 0 victory over Barborton last Saturday, inasmuch as Barborton is recognized as a good football school.

Clark will be shifted from a guard to a tackle, with Smith on the opposite side of the line.

Davidson will get into action at Clark's guard with Penabaker on the other guard. Allison will be at center.

That lineup puts a lot of new material into the general makeup of the squad, but it is judiciously sandwiched among the veterans who can be counted on to supply a steady effort.

Lightweight King Agrees To Risk Title

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—Sammy Mandell, lightweight champion of the world, whose apparent indisposition to work at his trade has drawn the fire of various state boxing commissions, has agreed to defend his title here November 14. Promoter Jim Mullen announced today.

Mullen declared he had secured the signature of Mandell's manager, Eddie Kane who agreed to send his Rockford flash against any opponent Mullen selected.

The promoter said the winner of the McLarnin-Kaplan clash here next Tuesday night will be given serious consideration. Kaplan is a former featherweight champion who was forced to vacate the title by growing out of the division.

Kane's eagerness to get employment for Mandell was believed inspired by the threat of the National Boxing association to declare the lightweight throne vacant unless Sammy defended his title within a specified time.

Ohio Scraps To Stick in Big Ten Race

Faces Northwestern at Capital in Crucial Game.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 14.—Faced with the task of battling Northwestern, co-champion of the Big Ten in 1926, for the right to stay in the Western Conference race, the Ohio State eleven is devoting every effort smoothing off the rough edges that showed last week against Iowa. The Iowa victory was by too scant a margin to be comfortable and experts agree that Northwestern should be rated as even stronger than the Hawkeye outfit. The Ohioans fully appreciate the quality of the competition ahead and realize that the Purple perhaps looks on this game as the biggest event on the 1927 schedule.

Interest at Evanston is running high the Northwestern Athletic Association reports. A special train is running to Columbus for the game and several hundred students have signed for the trip. A hundred-piece band and a second special train of alumni will also reach here Saturday morning.

The two schools last played football four years preceding. The Buckeyes were rated above the Purple. But Saturday's matinee promises a battle royal, with Ohio and Northwestern on an even footing.

What the Ohio lineup will be is still uncertain at present. However, the same line of Rowan and Bell at ends, Rawkowski and Uridil at tackles, Captain Meyer and Cox at the guard positions and Ullery at center is expected to start that functioned against the Hawkeyes last week. Rawkowski has been in the university hospital for several days with an infected arm.

Eby and Alber will probably be in the halfback positions with Fred Grim calling signals. In view of Osner's splendid work at Iowa City he may be given the call over Cory at fullback.

Some of the stalwarts who will carry the Purple for the first Northwestern team playing in the Ohio stadium are Captain Vic Gustafson, "Tiny" Lewis, and George Levison. Gustafson is a true triple threat man and is one of the best ball carrying backs in the conference. Levison at fullback is also proficient at place kicking and punting while his ground gaining ability through the line is common knowledge. He stars through this blocking ability but is not to be despised as a ball carrier.

Denison Outlook Is None Too Rosy; Red to Battle at Miami

Cincinnati Faces Dayton Flyers in Hard Game; Wooster Booked for Third Conference Win; Other Teams in Action.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 14.—Buck Wilhelm hasn't worked up much enthusiasm over his big red eleven which represents Denison this year, and his opinion seems to be more or less general, especially toward the Miami-Denison annual clash which features Saturday's Ohio Conference schedule. The teams will meet at Oxford for the first time since 1914, and for their seventeenth meet since 1909. Miami has won eight, Denison six, with two games tied. The clash of these old rivals is the only Buckeye Athletic association game scheduled.

Two of Ohio's "Big Six" elevens will meet conference teams, one of them, Cincinnati, will have anything but an easy time in its game with the Dayton University Flyers, and will most probably come through with a doubtless easy victory. The other, in the other association conference game, Marietta is counted to give Ohio university's Big Green boys real opposition, in their thirty-second annual clash. To date, Marietta has won 21 of the games, with two ties.

In the other conference games, Baldwin-Wallace appears to have a slight edge over Ohio Northern for their tilt at Berea. Case has lost both conference games to date, and will doubtless lose when they entertain Akron at Cleveland.

Coach Boles' boys have been putting out a good brand of football for Wooster and should mark up their third conference victory in their game with Heidelberg. Mt. Union will have little trouble at Hiram, according to the book.

Oberlin has been exhibiting a fine brand of football, while Western Reserve has finished second in its two conference starts, and there seems to be no reason for predicting other than another Oberlin victory over the Cleveland aggregation.

Wittenberg and Muskingum still look like the best in the conference. The Springfield Lutherans entertain Ashland in a non-conference tilt, while the New Concord huskies will play with the Columbus Lutherans of Capital university in another non-conference tilt. If either conference team is scored against, the dope sheet is all wrong.

Other college games in the state are: Cedarville at Bluffton; Adrian, Mich., vs. John Carroll at Cleveland; Morris Harvey, Barboursville, W. Va., at Rio Grande, and Detroit college at Toledo.

Coach Boles will start the same Wooster line-up at Heidelberg which played the major part of the 18 to 0 victory over Mt. Union last Saturday.

Muskingum's "Braves" are confident of an easy victory over Capital university, and according to Coach Lange, feel safe until next Saturday when they meet the Akron "Zippers."

Forward pass defense has been stressed the past week at Dayton following the "Flyers" defeat at Holy Cross last Saturday. The "Flyers" gained 116 yards via the forward pass last week, but Holy Cross made 117 yards by the same method.

The dope of Kenyon's Episcopalians is they haven't much chance for victory when they clash with Rochester, N. Y.

Hiram will present almost a new backfield when it starts against Mt. Union, as a result of last Saturday's game with Heidelberg.

Bob Fletcher's Case squad has been getting plenty of tackling practice this week for the tilt with Akron, and expects to show the "Zippers" a better defense than the Clevelanders have been exhibiting in past games.

Western reserve has been busy with passing attack practice since its defeat by St. Xavier last Saturday, and with Harold Bott starting at fullback, hopes to give Oberlin a mean afternoon.

Coach Godfrey will start his heavy scorers against Ashland, and hopes to run up another high score against the up-state team. To date the Lutherans have made 108 points in two games, though they were unable to score against Ohio State.

Howard Blair's Akron "Zippers" will present a revamped lineup at Case, with Fitzharris starting at end in place of Hlas, and Hopkins going from substitute center to guard, according to present arrangements. The regular backfield will doubtless start.

Ohio Northern feels that it lost last Saturday because Ohio university got all the breaks, and Coach Meredith expects better things from the Baldwin-Wallace game at Berea.

Dayton will not see the annual Miami-Denison clash this year. The teams will meet away from Dayton for the first time since 1917. Buck Wilhelm reported signs of improvement in the Granville eleven this week, but the former Stivers coach made no wild predictions.

Cincinnati will be outweighed to a great extent by the Dayton Flyers, and Coach Babcock is hoping the River Bears will score against the Gem City Catholics.

Drill On Signals

URBANA, Ill., Oct. 14.—Coach Zupke, viewing the Saturday game with Iowa state as a tough assignment, sent the Illini charges through a stiff signal drill today. The contest tomorrow is the first football engagement between the two schools.

SCULL BIDS FOR FAME

It is a safe bet even at this early date to jot down Paul Scull, Pennsylvania's husky little halfback, as one of the season's outstanding stars. Scull put an end to Brown university's reign as leader in eastern football circles by scoring all of his team's points against the Providence eleven.

It was the first defeat in 14 games for Brown, the school that rose to unusual heights last year by a brand of football never attained before at the institution. And it has turned out some mighty fine teams.

Scull is fast and squirmy and a good defensive man, ever alert to take advantage of an opponent's misplays. His toe is one of his deadliest weapons. That was shown last year when he booted the field goals that beat both Columbia and Penn State, 3 to 0, and tied Cornell, 10 to 10.

Scull has played six years of football in college and high school and experienced only one defeat, that to Illinois by a field goal.

Besides Paul, opposing teams have another Scull to contend with in Folwell, a brother, who seems destined to become a fine defensive player.

Fight Results

AT LONDON—Johnny Hill, flyweight champion of Great Britain, scored technical knockout over Francois Moracchini, former French champion, in ninth round.

AT ATLANTA—Paul Berlenbach, former light heavyweight champion, drew with Joe Lehman, Toledo, ten rounds.

AT AKRON, O.—Johnny Risko, Cleveland heavyweight, awarded newspaper decision over Romero Rojas, of Chile, ten rounds.

AT PITTSBURGH—Teddy Esterbrook, Niles, Ohio, middleweight, won from Bobby Richardson, Portage, Pa., ten rounds.

AT SAGINAW, Mich.—Eddie Dyer, Terra Haute, Ind., lightweight, won decision over Kewpie Trimble, Chicago, ten rounds.

Purdue Is Ready

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Oct. 14.—The Purdue football squad, 35 strong, departed for Chicago in charge of head coach Jimmy Phelan. With one exception the same team that defeated Harvard a week ago will take the field against Stagg's Maroons. Either Glen Harneson or Albert Guthrie will play Tony Leichte's position at fullback. Leichte was injured in the eastern game.

Lewis in Uniform

COLUMBUS, Oct. 14.—Quartered on the outskirts of the city, the Northwestern university eleven that faces Ohio State tomorrow lunched on stadium field today after the long train ride from Evanston, Ill. Tiny Lewis, stellar backfield performer who was reported to have contracted pneumonia, was in uniform and probably will be in the starting lineup.

Grid Season Swings Into Big Contests

Notre Dame-Navy, State-Northwestern Big Attractions.

By Malcolm Roy.
NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—East and west, north and south, football slips into high speed tomorrow with games of championship calibre dotting the schedule of virtually every college eleven that aspires to greatness. Topping the list in point of popular interest are the Navy-Notre Dame battle at Baltimore at which more than 60,000 spectators are looked for, and the Ohio State-Northwestern university clash at Columbus, O., where fully as many more enthusiasts will follow a game that may well decide the championship of the Western Conference.

Nationally, the Navy-Notre Dame game ranks with the season's best with the prospects slightly favoring the speedy eleven which Knute Rockne has brought on from South Bend. The Navy has a big rugged team with plenty of reserve power but its showing against Drake university last week was not of the kind to inspire the middies with too much confidence for victory over Notre Dame, which this year apparently measures up to the Rockne tradition of being as alert and versatile as it is fast and powerful.

Notre Dame for once will discard its usual blue jerseys and appear on the field in sweaters of verdant green. Flanagan, the big back who ran rings around the Army eleven last fall and completely confounded the West Pointers, is the man who is expected to tear things wide open against the middies who themselves have a pair of fine backfield stars in Lloyd and Clifton.

Yale and Brown will meet at New Haven in another game that will be a real battle between two eleven's which, despite their defeats last week, are both powerful teams and pretty well matched with what edge there is, inclined to be with Brown. Harvard will also catch another tartar in the Holy Cross team which it faces in the stadium at Cambridge.

New York will have two outstanding conflicts with intense interest centered in the game between Fordham and New York university at the Yankee stadium. It is estimated that more than 50,000 will see this game in which Major Frank Cavanaugh will send his new Fordham charges into their first major battle against N. Y. U., with its veteran backfield stars and omnipotent line. Columbia and Colgate provide the other metropolitan attraction. Despite Colgate's unexpected reverse at the hands of V. P. I. last week, the upstate eleven is regarded as having more than an even chance of halting the victorious career of the Blue and White.

Pennsylvania, lying high as a result of its victory over Brown, tackles Penn State at Franklin field. On past performances Penn should have little difficulty in disposing of State which was beaten last week by Bucknell.

Three other games in the east of more than passing interest are the Syracuse-Georgetown encounter at Syracuse; the Carnegie Tech-W. J. contest at Pittsburgh; and the Lafayette-West Virginia battle at Morgantown. Princeton is not likely to have much trouble with Washington & Lee at Princeton, nor is Harvard apt to stumble over the hitherto unbeaten Temple university team of Philadelphia at Hanover. Cornell has an open date and does not play tomorrow while the Army will get in trim for its battle with Yale next week by using Davis-Elkens as a trial horse.

Skull Practice

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Oct. 14.—With the Minnesota team quartered but 25 miles away, Pat Page, coach of the Indiana university eleven, decided on a blackboard drill today instead of a workout in the stadium for the homecoming game tomorrow.

Maroons Taper Off

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—As close to perfection as any Chicago eleven has been in recent years, the Maroons tapered off today for the crucial game with Purdue tomorrow at Stagg field. The Chicago offensive has been bolstered up during the week and a system aimed to check the Phelan air plays has been perfected.

MODERN BOOKS CALLED FILTHY BY CHURCHMEN

Pamphlet Makes Bitter
Attack on Present
Day Literature.

"DREAMERS" HIT
Freud, Shaw, Wells,
Sinclair Classed as Unfit.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla.—A turore has been caused to reverberate through out Southern halls of learning as a result of the appearance here of a pamphlet, published by a committee of churchmen, entitled "Psychoanalysis of Filthy Dreamers." The pamphlet is a bitter attack upon present-day methods of scientific teachings and the presence of books by Freud, Chase Allport, Ross, Kroeber, Ellis, Wells, George Bernard Shaw, Rivers, Anderson, Sinclair and other modern writers, in the libraries of the Florida State College for Women at Tallahassee and the University of Florida at Gainesville.

"We are wondering just how such books can escape censorship and how they can be sent through the mails," the pamphlet declares in reference to psychoanalysis, sociology and psychology text and reference books.

"The wonder of it all is that men and women can be found in the teaching profession who would even handle such books, much less teach them. One would readily conclude that any gentleman after reading them would question his own respectability, at least, until such time as he could take a bath," it said.

Fear for Civilization.
"It goes without saying that no lady with any of the pure instincts of her sex would suffer her eyes to feast upon such putrid stuff, much less pass it on to those of her sex whose minds are supposed to be pure and free from such things. Well may we ask, whither are we tending?"

"If such matters are to be taught to our girls, our civilization is doomed. That the greater percentage of books used in our state institutions of higher learning in the state of Florida, as well as throughout the nation, are the product of infidel writers is not far to seek," the preface of the pamphlet says. "That the same holds equally true as to instructors in these same institutions is likewise most convincing."

"In a recent survey made by Prof. Leary, himself a modernist, of Bryn Mawr, it was found that of 5,500 teachers of science, 67 per cent of the teachers of physics, 77 per cent of the teachers of history, 80 per cent of the teachers of biology, 83 per cent of the teachers of sociology and 86 per cent of the teachers of psychology had given up the Bible as God's word and the Saviour as the real redeemer."

Character of Books.
"The character of the books in use in our institutions of higher learning, together with so large a percentage of infidel instructors 'who know not God,' constitute the greatest menace with which our state and nation has ever been confronted."

Most of the small booklet is composed of quotations from psychological and psycho-analytical text reference books to which the church committee objects. The quotations, for the most part, are essentially sexual in nature and are "quite outspoken." University officials declare that the books contain nothing that students should not know.

Hen Lays Twin Eggs.
A hen in Ulster lays two eggs at a time, sometimes three. The owner explains this by saying that the hen, a last year's pullet, had sunstroke when a month old. Since it has grown up the hen has on four days a week laid two eggs at a time, and has twice laid three.

UTILITY MEN OPEN DRIVE ON PATERNALISM

Government Interference

Scored.

CORTELYOU AIDS
Efforts on Educational

CLEVELAND. — A vigorous campaign against paternalism and interference in private business by government will be inaugurated in the near future by the National Utility Association, according to George B. Cortelyou, of New York, who was a delegate at the recent convention here of the American Electric Railway Association.

Cortelyou, who was private secretary to President McKinley and a member of President Roosevelt's cabinet, declares that there has been an increasing tendency on the part of the government in recent years to encroach upon private business.

Represents Billions. The National Utility Association, representing public service corporations in all parts of the country, with a combined invested capital of $17,500,000,000 will combat this tendency with a nationwide campaign of education, Cortelyou says.

"We believe that an informed public is a just public," he stated in a speech here. "We intend, therefore, to give the public the truth about utilities."

"We believe that we can so present the merits of private ownership that an informed public will be unwilling to abandon the solid ground for the quicksands of government ownership," Warns Against Politics.

He also warned against dangers of mixing municipal politics with street car service, declaring: "Transportation in New York City today is a crying shame. Why? Because of politics and the desire of politicians to fool all the people all the time."

Prince Mountain Climber. Prince Chichibu, who recently climbed to the top of Mount Hotaka, one of the highest peaks in the northern group of Japanese Alps, is an enthusiastic mountain climber. Over steep rocks he made his way to the summit of Hotaka in company with A. Maki, a famous peak scaler, who acted as his guide.

Chicago Stock Comes To Ceramic Monday

New York Stage Successes Will be Presented Here Next Week—
Matinee Daily.

The Ceramic theatre management today announced that the Chicago Stock company will officially open their fall and winter dramatic season with an engagement at the Fourth street playhouse next week.

This company needs no introduction to local lovers of the spoken drama, having played annual engagements here for many years. This season, the company's 32nd annual tour of the principal cities of the east, finds the organization composed of a strong cast of players, including many of the favorites of former seasons along with several new members picked from leading permanent stocks of the country. The principal players are Peggy Martin, the leading lady who won many friends here with the company last year, and W. James Bedell, leading man of former years who is again with the company after a year's absence.

The plays to be presented next week are all well-known New York hits. The opening attraction, Monday matinee and evening, will be Earl Carroll's hit, "Laff That Off," telling the story of one of the most exclusive fraternal circles the world has ever known. The plot of the play is laid in the days of the World war and while there are no war scenes in the story there are patriotic moments that make the audience thrill with the spirit of America and rock in their seats with merriment caused by the trio of boys who portray the leading characters.

Other plays to be staged include "How Women Ruin Men," a rollicking Avery Hopwood comedy; "The Cat and the Canary," the greatest of mystery thrillers; "Sinner," the Klaw theatre success of last season, and "Naughty Cinderella," Miss Irene Gordon's latest starring success.

There will be daily matinees beginning Monday at which a special bargain scale of prices will be followed. Reserved seats for the entire week will go on sale Saturday morning.

How the Other Half Behaves

DOGGONE QUEER.
CLEVELAND, O.—Harry Cole has a dog mystery on his hands. Police don't seem to help any towards the solution of the problem either. It happened like this. Cole locked his alibi in his house before going out.

Every door, window and transom was locked. When he returned after midnight the Alibi was tied to a fence in the rear of the house. Nothing in the house had been disturbed. Police say the house had not been entered.

BOASTER LOSES LICENSE.
ALBANY, N. Y.—Albion J. Eckert, Jr. just purchased an automobile. To let the world know what an excellent thing this particular machine was he advertised in the papers that he had driven 205.4 miles in 343 minutes. But traffic authorities had little understanding for such an excellent record. They revoked his license on the ground that speed laws had been violated.

Magnesia Best For Your Indigestion

Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically from gas, sourness and indigestion, have now discontinued disagreeable diets, patent foods and the use of harmful drugs, stomach tonics, medicines and artificial digestants, and instead, following the advice so often given in these columns, take a teaspoonful or four tablets of Bisurated Magnesia in a little water after meals with the result that their stomach no longer troubles them, they are able to eat as they please and they enjoy much better health. Those who use Bisurated Magnesia never dread the approach of meal time because they know this wonderful antacid and food corrective, which can be obtained from any good drug store, will instantly neutralize the stomach acidity, sweeten the stomach, prevent food fermentation, and make digestion easy. Try this plan yourself, but be certain to get Bisurated Magnesia especially prepared for stomach use.

WASHINGTON STEWART'S LETTER

By Charles P. Stewart.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Coolidge? Oh, he'd be renominated if he only half chose to be, and as may be drafted anyway.

Hughes? Big business likes him. Dawes?—or Lowden? Either one of 'em ought to suit the farmers. Longworth? He's a mighty popular among the politicians.

Hoover? Why, the women are in favor of Hoover.

THIS isn't to say that the masculine fraction of the electorate is UN-favorable to Hoover. On the contrary, he's an all-round strong candidate.

Undoubtedly also there are women whose first selection would be Charles Evans Hughes, or Charles G. Dawes, or Frank O. Lowden, or Nicholas Longworth, not to mention Calvin Coolidge.

Yet you'll notice, every time the roll of Republican presidential possibilities is called that you'll overhear, from one corner or another, the remark—
"The WOMEN are in favor of HOOVER."

CURIOUS to know whether this is a fact, and, supposing it to be so, what the reason is, I took nearly a whole day off, and went around asking all the women I could find in Washington who profess any considerable interest in politics whether it's true that Secretary of Commerce Hoover really is the American woman's favorite pick as next year's Republican presidential nominee, and IF he is, WHY he is?

The answer to the first question was almost uniform—
"Why, you know—I never thought of it before—but now you mention it—yes sir, I do believe it IS true."

REPLIES to the request for an explanation of the phenomenon were more varied.

They boiled down substantially to this: Secretary Hoover's personality stands out preeminently as a humanly helpful one—as in Belgium and the Mississippi valley—a characteristic upon which women seem to think that other women set a higher value than is generally set on it by their husbands, their fathers and their brothers.

He's been prominently identified with the American Child Help and the Better Homes movements.

He's associated in women's minds with the idea of uplifting domesticity—not merely by setting a good example, like lots of public men, but by DOING something for it.

MRS. HOOVER is given a great deal of credit for popularizing her husband with the women of the country. She's a member of many women's organizations. She's lent an efficient hand in promotion of their activities. She's a Girl Scout vice president. She's done good work in getting out the women's vote. She believes in them in public life.

In short, she has a very large following. Large numbers of women, when they hear Secretary Hoover spoken of as a Republican presidential possibility, think of Mrs. Hoover and are promptly in favor of her husband.

RATHER peculiarly, most of the women I consulted spoke of Secretary Hoover as "liberal."

I always thought he was a conservative. Men and women must define liberalism and conservatism differently.

Sally's Shoulders

by BEATRICE BURTON, Author of "HER MAN" "HONEY LOU" "THE HOLLYWOOD GIRL" ETC.

CHAPTER XXXII.
All that long Sunday following her outburst in John Nye's office Sally tried to make up her mind whether to go back to work for him on Monday or not.

"I've made such a fool of myself that I'm ashamed to look him in the face," she thought miserably, as she cooked dinner for her mother and Beau and Mabel.

"What are your plans for the day?" she asked Beau and Mabel as they sat at the table, having the stuffed veal and the squash and scalloped tomatoes that Sally had got ready for them.

"We thought we'd take a ride out in the country," answered Mabel, who seemed to make all the plans for the pair. "We thought maybe we could buy some grape-juice cheap along the road and put it away for wild parties."

Mrs. Jerome's whole face stiffened at the mention of the "wild" parties. But she said nothing about them.

"Perhaps you'll drop me off at the hospital on your way," she sniffed. "I'm going to take some of this veal and dressing to poor Millie. The nurse says she doesn't eat enough to keep a bird alive—'And all at once her face crumpled up and she began to whimper."

At the familiar sound Sally came running from the kitchen, where she had been cutting the peach cobbler that she had made for dessert.

"What's wrong, Mother?" she asked, looking from Beau's blank face to Mabel's scornful one. She wondered if either of them had said anything to hurt her mother's tender feelings.

"She's crying about Millie—because she won't eat," snapped Mabel. "My goodness, I just wish I could stop eating. Maybe I'd lose a hip or two!"

Sally put her arms around her mother. "There's nothing to cry about, dear," she said, smoothing back her mother's graying hair and holding her face against her shoulder. "Millie's been through a dreadful operation, and it's going to take time for her to feel herself again. She'll be all right, you'll see."

"She's so white and so thin," sobbed Mrs. Jerome. "And she doesn't seem to have any life in her. Oh, I don't know what to do about her, I'm sure."

"Mother," Sally said, "do you see that begonia plant over on the window sill?"

Mrs. Jerome lifted her head and gave her a startled look. "Of course, I see it," she answered, plainly puzzled. "What about it?"

Sally laughed cheerfully—much cheerfully than her feelings warranted.

"Well, just this," she said. "That plant was just nothing but a stalk a while ago, and it was so white and sickly that I thought it never would live. And look at it! Doesn't it make you think of Millie? All pink and pretty. Please don't worry about her, Mother. I know she'll be all right. I just feel that she will be."

Mabel burst out laughing. "Girl," she said with a sneer. "You're wasting your talents working around offices. You ought to turn into a woman preacher of something. . . . Well, come on, Mugsy, if you're going with us you'd better dry those tears and get your hat on."

For some reason, best known to herself Mabel had taken to calling Mrs. Jerome "Mugsy." Every time she did it Mrs. Jerome frowned and winced, but that did not bother Mabel.

"At 4 o'clock, while Sally was fronting her white blouse, Ted Sloan came running up the back stairs, taking them two steps at a time and making a great noise."

"Gosh, it's a pip of a day! Want to go for a ride in 'Cheapsides'?" he asked. "That was what he called his car—'Old Cheapsides'."

Sally smiled up at him as she straightened the collar of the waist before her on her board.

"I'd love to go. But you'll have to wait until I finish this blouse," she said. "And then we'll have to stop at the hospital for mother and bring her home. After that we can go."

He did not look particularly pleased. But he said "All right" and went down stairs much more slowly than he had come up.

When they got to the hospital an hour later Beau's little red car stood in the street before it. Ted, who knew a thing or two about second-hand cars, hooted when Sally showed it to him.

"It isn't worth a hundred dollars," he declared. "And I'm going up with you to Millie's room and tell him so."

But he did very little talking after he stepped into the green-walled hospital room. For the family was just getting ready to go, and Millie was sitting up in bed, watching them list-

"Baboon Boy" Very Strong.
A strange story of South Africa has set London talking. About 25 years ago two of the Cape Police, while hunting baboons, caught one of the aggrards, only to find that it was a well grown native boy. He was unable to talk and disliked normal food. He skurried on all fours and it was difficult to teach him to use his legs as the sole means of locomotion. Today he speaks English, can run a 10-mile errand and can lift and carry enormous weights. He remembers being taken from his kraal when a baby and cared for by a baboon foster mother. The United States is said to have a plentiful supply of everything but many still seem to be short of cash—Middletown Journal.

RESTRAINT.

The quality of restraint, or what might be called a fine sense of restraint, has a great deal to do with the making of character and with the making of happiness. The most effective public speakers are those who speak in such a manner as to give the impression of great reserve power—power that they are not using, but which could be used in all our relationships we are impressed with quiet people who give us the sense of force. That comes from the quality of restraint.

BOY'S BODY WAS COVERED WITH SEVERE ITCHING RASH

Skin now without a blemish

Ketchum, Me., July 13:—"About seven years ago my nephew developed a severe case of skin trouble which looked like eczema. His face, hands and whole body were covered with the trouble and his skin became raw from scratching. Many soaps and ointments were tried without success before Resinol Soap and Ointment were prescribed and used. The first few applications stopped the itching and soon he was entirely healed. He now has the loveliest skin I ever saw and, thanks to Resinol Soap and Ointment, no unsightly blotches mar the beauty of his complexion."—(Signed) Vivian M. Eagle, Vernon Street.

Swansdown Flavor is Always Uniform

SCIENTIFIC methods determine in advance SWANSDOWN'S uniformly fragrant bouquet and rich abundant flavor. The four fine grades of coffee beans used in SWANSDOWN are first washed; then all broken, "crippled" beans are floated off so that the mellow, full-bodied flavor remains unimpaired. The selected berries are then blended into one fixed, secret formula which produces a smooth, delicious coffee of perfectly balanced qualities. SWANSDOWN is then ready to be served in your home. A meal is only as good as its coffee. Handled by all grocers.

TEMPTATION.

We cannot count on any quick material reward for the quiet and persistent overcoming of temptation. There are always temptations to be less than our best. Even when the resistance is successful and the temptation has passed the effort sometimes seems futile. But the day comes and comes soon when we find our selves with a new peace of mind, a new sense of strength, a new feeling of comfort. That is the reward that comes from the cultivation of the quality of restraint.

MUSIC AS MEDICINE.

Ancient healers and medicine men today among uncivilized tribes beat tom-toms to keep away disease or to effect cures. They are not so unscientific as they sound. Dr. Jules Reznault, former chief surgeon of the French navy, says that in using the vibrations of sound, light, electro-magnetism, and other waves to help effect cures, the modern physician is simply taking a page from the book of the past. The curative value of music is recognized in hospitals for the insane. Music, in addition to its place in the field of art, may have a future in the field of science.

THE WAY WE LIVE.

We wonder and are sometimes aghast at the changes in modern thinking and modern ways. But when we see how differently people are housed and live today the wonder is that their thinking and acting have not been changed more. For example, about 3,000 people are assembled each day in an office building. In some of these buildings there are many more than that. These people are working very close together at all sorts of different tasks. More and more they are crowding into cities and changing from the habits of their fathers. How different from life in the beginning of the republic!

Thomas Henry Buckle, who wrote the great "History of Civilization," says the character of races has largely been determined by geography and climate. And so the thinking of modern folks is partly determined by tall office buildings and crowded apartment houses.

Rusting of iron and steel in the world in the past 12 months is estimated to have caused a loss of $2,500,000,000.

Al G. Fields Minstrel Stars at Ceramic

Jack Richards and Billy Church, on Stage, and Pola Negri's "Barbed Wire" Headline Program.

Youthful Builders

Jack Richards and Billy Church, of Al G. Fields Minstrelsy fame, headline the three-day bill opening at the Ceramic theatre today. They will appear in conjunction with Pola Negri's new starring vehicle, "Barbed Wire". Richards and Church will feature "blues songs," no "jazz" songs, just those good old time harmonies that lend themselves so readily to "barbershop" chords. Richards and Church have that something, call it artistry, call it showmanship, call it anything you wish, they have that something that reaches down into the heart and makes you glad you came.

The tense, dramatic, story of a Norman farm girl who is irresistibly attracted by and forced in spite of all instinctive hatreds to love a war-time German prisoner.

As Mona, the French girl, Miss Negri has one of the greatest roles of her remarkable career. Under the supervising eye of Erich Pommer, the continental film genius and with the sympathetic direction of Rowland V. Lee, the great tragedienne worked in an atmosphere perfectly suited to her temperament.

Clive Brook plays Oskar, the German prisoner. Born in England, Brook did not take up his stage and screen work till after service at Vimy Ridge, the Battle of Messines and in other engagements with his British unit. He has played opposite Betty Compson, Jetta Goudal and many others with the foremost film companies. His work for Paramount has been outstanding.

Einar Hanson, the young Swedish player, has been cast as the Britisher. He is a film protegee of Mauritz Stiller, the Swedish director who recently finished "Hotel Imperial". Erich Pommer's first production in America for Paramount.

Claude Gillingwater, with 50 years of stage and six years of screen experience, plays the Father.

Gustav von Seyffertitz, cast as the profiteering Neighbor, is a veteran actor and stage director.

Charles Lane plays the Commandant of the prison camp and Clyde Cook, acrobat of two reel comedy fame, portrays Hans, the comedy relief of the film.

Fire Fought With Soap.

Soap-suds are used in a new German device for extinguishing fires. Especially useful in putting out gasoline or benzine fires, where streams of water are useless, the machine carries two large foam generators with powdered soap. High-pressure jets of water race through the soap chamber, operating water wheels that churn the soap into suds, to issue in a foaming blast from the nozzle of the hose.

Feel Good

Most ailments start from poor elimination (constipation or semi-constipation). Internal poisons sap vitality, undermine health and make life miserable. Tonight try NATURE'S REMEDY—all-vegetable corrective—not an ordinary laxative. See how NR will aid in restoring your appetite and rid you of that heavy, jittery, unpleasant feeling. 'LAFF THAT OFF' HERE MONDAY

Chicago Stock Company at Ceramic Next Week.

A World war play without a gunshot. A play with all the romance of "The Big Parade." A play as true-to-life as "What Price Glory." A play that will please the youth of today as well as the mothers and fathers. These are the claims held out for "Laff That Off," the Earl Carroll hit which is to be presented at the Ceramic next Monday, matinee and evening, by the Chicago Stock company. The play is the first of six different productions to be presented here by the company next week.

"Laff That Off" ran all last season at the Wallick theatre in New York City. The story tells of three young boys who occupy a 'bachelor hall' apartment in New York. Into their lives comes a girl whom one of them befriends when all the world seems against her.

She is permitted to share their apartment, acting as mother, sister and housekeeper for them. And while the boy's friendship still continues they each have a secret love for the girl which they dare not confess.

The second act of the play finds the little quartette about to be broken up by the World war. The critical moment has arrived. The inevitable break must come in the life-long friendship. What is to be done? What is to be said. The climax of this act is one which will strike every person in the audience who has ever had a real 'friend' or 'buddy.' It is a scene which will long be remembered by all who see it.

In the third act of the play the author brings out a surprise finish which sends everyone home satisfied. To divulge it would be to spoil the story for the persons in the audience. Tickets go on sale at the Ceramic box-office tomorrow morning.

Sebring

Mrs. Olive Taylor, 35, of 495 1/2 West Oregon avenue, died at the Alliance City hospital Monday afternoon following an operation.

Mrs. Taylor, who resided in Sebring for years, was a member of the Berg-holz Christian church. She is survived by her husband, Joseph Taylor, one son, Ralph, at home and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Morrow of Toronto, and six sisters and four brothers. Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon in the home in charge of Rev. D. P. Shafer, pastor of the Church of Christ. Burial was made in Grandview cemetery, Sebring.

Stunts and games were featured at a masquerade party of the Women's Bible class of the Presbyterian church held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Oscar Simler, Pennsylvania avenue. The home was decorated in keeping with the Halloween season. A short business session was held. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Simler and Mrs. Smith.

M. A. Sutherland, station agent, attended a meeting of agents of the Eastern division Tuesday afternoon in Alliance. Lunch was held at the Lexington cafeteria followed by the afternoon meeting in the Ohio Public Service company auditorium. Teachers and officers of the Church of Christ were entertained Tuesday evening at the home of Albert Yeder, Snoder Station. Members of the Church of Christ orchestra were special guests. A weiner roast was enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Cobb were honored recently by a surprise party held by friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cobb, south of Sebring. Mrs. Cobb was formerly Miss Christina Mercer of Alliance. Lunch was served. The couple received many gifts.

Argentina is entering a new era of prosperity, caused by increased world demand for its products.

Anti-Rice Drive in Japan.
The movement in Japan to find new fields for rice cultivation in the Ussuri river region of Siberia is meeting with opposition from a group who point out that rice is really a luxury food and urge the Japanese to eat more wheat. While there is no arguing about questions of taste the rice lovers pay dearly for their preference. Rice costs them two and a half times as much as the American's staff of life. It is contended, moreover, that wheat is twice as rich as rice in protein.

Ugly Girls Worst Wives.
Ugly girls make the worst wives, according to the latest prison report to Japan. The moral for Nippon's young men appears to be not to marry ugly girls, but to choose the prettiest they can find. At all events, this is the advice of the prison authorities at To-chioku Prefecture. They declare that the majority of criminal women are ugly. But officials say that perhaps there are not many ugly girls in Japan, for women inmates of Japanese prisons number only 910 in comparison with a total of more than 41,000 men.

Sally's Shoulders

BEATRICE BURTON, Author of "HER MAN," "MONEY LON," "THE HOLLYWOOD GIRL," etc.

Less as she rubbed her nails with mother-of-pearl nail polish until they were like little mirrors. On the tiny glass-topped table beside her was the plate of food that her mother had brought to her. It was untouched.

"Don't bother to come in and see me, Ted," she sang out when she saw his red head above Sally's dark one. "But I want to talk to you, Sally." She was like Du Barry receiving her ministers in her bed-chamber, ordering this one here and that one there.

Sally stood beside her.

"How do you feel today? Better?"

"Rotten," replied Millie, almost as if she were glad to be feeling badly.

"My pep's all gone," she went on, dully. "I don't know what's the matter with me. I guess maybe the old hospital gives me the blues. How can I eat in a place like this, with people going past the door on stretchers?"

She broke off, gave Sally an intent look, and then held out a slip of paper. A telephone number was written upon it.

"That's Davy Davidson's number. Tell him I want to see him, will you?"

Sally put the paper into her shabby, gray leather purse.

"Yes, but ought you to see him when you won't see Mr. Nye?" she asked, her eyes passing over fresh-cut roses and shaggy white chrysanthemums that stood on the window sills and the dresser. She knew that John Nye had sent them.

"That's some more of my business!" Millie held out her hand for the paper. "Give me back that telephone number. I'll have the nurse give him my message."

But Sally put the bag behind her back. "No, I'll call him. But it does look funny, refusing to see the man you've made up your mind to marry and then asking another man to come. I think Mother or someone in the family ought to be here when he does come, too."

"If you say another word I'll get right out of this bed!" Millie threatened angrily. "I just won't lie here and listen to you rave a minute longer—trying to tell me what to do and what not to do! You're a year younger than I am and don't forget it!"

But it was easy to forget that Millie was older, and therefore much wiser than she, supposedly. Sally told herself as she walked down the quiet, white corridors of the hospital. At times Millie acted as if she were still in her mud-pie and pinafore days. "I'd give a lot to know what she wants to see Davidson for," she thought, riding home between her mother and Ted, all three of them very silent and subdued. Millie, on one of her bad days, was enough to subdue anybody.

"Well, I thought I'd take a chance," he said.

"Beau and Mabel seem to have a pretty good time together, don't they?" Ted asked thoughtfully when he and Sally were alone that night. They were sitting on the back steps, side by side, looking at the row of small houses and apartment buildings in the next street. Some of the windows were lighted up and through them they could see women moving to and fro as they got supper. Delicious odors floated up to them—boiling coffee, potatoes frying, and once the rich smell of roasting cheese.

"Pretty nice—having a little home of your own. Just two people," Ted said quietly, reaching out in the darkness for Sally's small work-hardened hand. "What more could two people want than a home of their own, and a little car, and each other?"

"They could want—love," Sally answered him stonily, and she jumped up and marched straight into the house.

"Goodnight," she called, and he heard the door shut.

He shook his head. . . . He couldn't make her out. Just when he thought she was beginning to warm up to him she became cold and distant. She put the whole world between them with the closing of a door and a single word, "Goodnight."

He got up and went slowly down the stairs to his own door.

On Monday morning, bright and early, Sally was in John Nye's private office, putting it into order for the day.

She loved working in it—touching the glass and silver ink-stand, laying the pencils and pens straight in the glass tray, slipping a new blotter in the blotting pad shaking out the leather seat-cushion.

Just as she finished with the room and was starting to leave it a sharp knock came on the door.

She opened it to find Davy Davidson standing in the outer office, his brown felt hat in his hands.

He was all in brown, and for the first time she realized that he really was extraordinarily handsome in a loud way.

"Mr. Nye here?" he asked, trying to look beyond her into the private office.

Sally shook her head. "Not yet, but I'm expecting him," she said, her face flushing a little under the deep, searching look he turned on her.

"You working for him now?" he wanted to know.

Sally nodded. "Helping out, while Millie's sick. By the way, Millie wants you to go to see her at the hospital. She's awfully blue and lonesome, lying there, day after day."

He said nothing to that. "Well, I thought Nye might be here, and I took a chance, dropping in without an appointment this way," he remarked in an off-hand way and turned to go.

But Sally stopped him.
